Friends of the Earth Ruthin | Cyfeillion y Ddaear Rhuthun

Thursday 22nd October

Power Station (12)

Two eccentric artists work to turn a whole street over to solar power. An in-your-face prototype of community led power. Channelling Withnail and I and the Ealing comedies, the film charts the financial and emotional trials and tribulations of making change together.

Wednesday 2nd December

Savages (PG)

An ecological fable set in the rain forest of Borneo, covering tensions between the self-sufficient indigenous people, deforestation for palm oil plantations and corporate greed. This stop-motion film has been chosen by Friends of the Earth Cymru to spearhead their Planet over Profit campaign.

Thursday 28th January

Derek vs Derek (15)

Two farming neighbours. Two contrasting approaches. Two Dereks. Blunt, funny and heart-warming in equal measure, this film charts their turbulent relationship as tempers fray, animals run amok, and the land is radically transformed. A film about land use and farming, told by farmers.

Thursday 11th March

How to Live on Earth (12A)

Benedict Cumberbatch presents a hopeful vision of a future within reach – one in which nature thrives, and so do we. Brings together inspiring and unexpected human stories from around the world, exploring what becomes possible when we team up with nature to solve our biggest challenges.
